

“Enrique and his team have always been creative and professional. They never lose the importance of architecture and design within a building and towards the customer and society, but they also understand the importance in the real-estate business of making a profit for the investors and how good architecture and experience are a key element to achieve these goals...

Gracias.

Arq. José Luis Quiroz Robles

Director General Adjunto

Desarrollo Inmobiliario

GICSA®